Growing in Faith, Hope and Love

This past month in our Christian Soldiers Sunday morning classes, we have been studying the story of Abraham. We have learned how God called him to leave his homeland and go to a place that God would show him. We learned how God made him a promise that he would be the father of many nations and how God would bless the whole Earth through his descendants. We learned how God asked him to sacrifice Issac his son, and how Abraham was willing to follow though with it.

Throughout the story of Abraham, he showed his unwavering faith in God. He was willing to trust God even when the path was not clear. We will face times in our lives where our path is not clear. In those times, we should remember the story of Abraham.

As adults, sometimes we forget the stories of the Bible. We often need to be reminded of those "Sunday school" lessons. They are so powerful, and their message is still true to us as adults.

Abraham is our example of faith given to us by God to guide us through our unexpected journeys. Let's always remember Abraham and his faith.

Remember you are loved!

Eric

THE SECOND COMING OF JESUS: THE VIEWS OF MILLENNIALISM

Last week we discussed the false teaching of premillennialism. This is a view that is held by many religious groups and denominations. Unfortunately some of our own brethren have been persuaded to follow it in recent years.

The scriptures teach that the church is the kingdom of God (Matthew 16:17-19). They teach that the church is not temporary and that it was planned from the beginning (Ephesians 3:10-11). We must remember the prophesy of Daniel in Daniel 7:13-14 of the church. He said that the church would stand forever and that it would be the final kingdom. To say that Jesus did not accomplish His goal or mission leads one to believe that He failed. This is impossible because He is God! He fulfilled His promises to establish His kingdom (Acts 2:47, Colossians 1:13, Revelation 1:9). So, premillennialism is dead on arrival. What about the other views?

Postmillennialism is the belief that Christ will return at the end of the millennial age. Those who hold to this view believe that the return of the Lord Jesus Christ will postdate, or come after, and climax the millennium. This view envisions that the world will increasingly become better until the millennium arrives, and Jesus' millennial reign will not be in person. It is also based on a misunderstanding of Revelation 20. This position was supported by Martin Luther, John Wycliffe, and other early reformers, with the except of the Anabaptists which supported premillennialism. This view used to be very popular, but is not as common today in main stream denominations. Therefore, for the sake of time, we will discuss the third view.

Amillennialism is the belief that there is no literal millennial reign on Christ on earth. This view supports the fact that the church is the kingdom and that when Jesus comes again there will be millennial reign. This view also supports the fact that the description of the millennial reign in Revelation 20 is not to be taken as literal but figurative. This is the view that is consistent with the Bible. The use of this in Scripture is figurative.

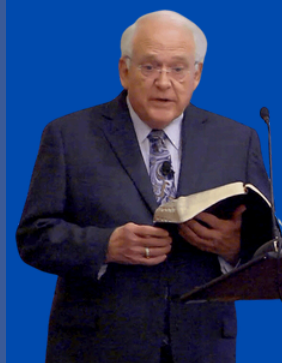

Now that we have discussed these three views we need to see how, if Revelation is not to be taken literal, we can know how Jesus is coming. We must be prepared for His coming, so we will study a few scriptures next week that will help us in being more prepared for the second coming of Christ. Are you ready?

Have a great week!

You Are Loved!
 Ray
