VBS 2024!

We can't say "thank you" enough to everyone who helped make VBS a HUGE success! Every participant was greatly appreciated. Thanks to Caryn Coxwell for photographing each night.

Next week's bulletin will be full of photos. (This picture does not capture everyone involved!)

NEW MEMBERS:

Please see Christy Gill to have your picture taken for the directory, or if you need your picture updated.

New directory sheets are placed on the table at the north end of the auditorium. If you need a new, complete set of directory pages, please contact Christy. A pdf of the directory can be emailed to you as well.

Cindy Hatcher is available for counseling appointments in person or via ZOOM. Call 251-263-3100 for an appointment.

Summerdale Youth Group
Growing in Faith, Hope and Love

Good morning, Church family! What an amazing week of VBS we had! I cannot thank all of you enough for your hard work to make VBS 2024 a success! It was so awesome to watch God work this week in the lives of all our "little" visitors. I know that all the kids and parents that attended were blessed by it.

After it was all over, I started thinking about how Jesus tells us in Mathew 18:3-4 "Assuredly, I say to you, unless you are converted and become as little children, you will by no means enter the kingdom of heaven. Therefore, whoever humbles himself as the little child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven." To see their excitement and enthusiasm was such an encouragement to me and a reminder that Jesus wants us to have that same type of innocence and attitude when we worship Him. He wants us to worship Him with no regard for what other people think or will say, but truly empty ourselves of all worries and cares, and fully worship Him.

I challenge you this week to worship God just like our kids did during VBS!

As always, remember you are loved!

Eric

READING THE BIBLE IN A YEAR: The Exodus Book = Psalms Concerning Israel

The second book of Psalms is full of Davidic psalms. It includes 31 psalms with 18 ascribed to David, 7 to the sons of Korah, 1 to Solomon (Psalm 72), and the rest are anonymous. These psalms were compiled for Tabernacle and Temple services.

Psalms: Book Two relates to the book of Exodus. The general theme concerns Israel as a nation: Israel's ruin, Redeemer, and redemption. It begins, like Exodus, with a cry from the depth of ruin and despair (Psalm 41-42, related to Exodus 1-3), continues with God's mighty works of deliverances (Psalm 44-50, related to Exodus 4-15), includes backsliding, defeat, and hardships (Psalms 51-55, related to Exodus 16-27) and ends with God's redemptive work for Israel and His eternal reign (Psalm 56-72, related to Exodus 19-40).

It is interesting how the psalms in this section focus on God as the mighty Judge and King. He is the powerful worker of justice on all nations, the rescuer of those who delight in Him, and the One who is above all and over all. The Lord will go before us to execute justice on His enemies. David wants us to have a sense of wonder when we worship the Lord, but does not want us to forget about our deliverance and redemption. They speak of how God is able to rescue His people even when they are in ruin and slavery. This book uses the name Elohim (164), more than Yahweh (30).

Psalm 42 sets the scene by crying out for God's presence in a dry wilderness experience, much like the scene depicted in Exodus. The Psalmist continually appeals to God for deliverance from the enemy who is afflicting God's people. The book finishes with a prayer of Solomon, the third king of the United Kingdom of Israel (Psalm 72). The final verses praise God for His power and might, and His glory. Don't miss the double "Amen" at the end of the doxology! Again.

One of my favorite psalms in this section is Psalm 51, where David pours his heart out to God asking for forgiveness and mercy. He says, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. Do not cast me away from Your presence, and do not take Your Holy Spirit from me. Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and uphold me by Your generous Spirit." This is the prayer he offered after his sin with Bathsheba, Uriah's wife. He shows us that there is always hope with God. If we fail, He will give us another chance. There will still be consequences but He can forgive us of our sins. Have a great week!

You Are Loved. Ray
